DETAILED ACTION

1. This communication is in response to amendment filed 7/13/2005.

Response to Amendment

2. Claims 1-23, 26-44 and 46-49 are pending and have been allowed.

Reasons for Allowance

3. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The claimed inventions pertain to charging a payment transaction to a customer.

The following prior art references have been deemed most relevant to the allowed claim(s):

Bahreman (US Pat. 6061665) discloses method and article of manufacture for securely transmitting payment information utilizing a negotiated, mutually acceptable payment processing method from a customer to a merchant utilizing a network. Bahreman, in particular discloses a payment processing method comprising a payment negotiation process in which buying and selling agents exchange a sequence of query and accept/reject/confirm messages with or without the user's intervention. The result of the exchange of messages is an agreement on a particular payment processing method that is utilized for a particular transaction or a series of transactions.

The instant application on the other hand recite the following feature which renders the claimed invention(s) novel over Bahreman considered as the closet prior art of record.

Claims 1-23, 26-44 and 46-49 recites:

.. submitting information regarding said described payment instruments to a computer-implemented transaction evaluator configured to automatically select one of said described payment instruments based on relative economic utility of said described payment instruments and receiving from said transaction evaluator the transaction evaluator's selection of one of said described payment instruments, wherein information describing the payment instruments are identified by a customer who is offered an incentive to identify a plurality of payment instruments to consummate a payment transaction.

(Note that the interpretation of the computer-implemented transaction evaluator is in accordance with description provided in the specification at p. 33, L20 - p.34, L19).

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

DETAILED ACTION

1. This communication is in response to amendment filed 7/13/2005.

EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

2. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Attorney Edward J. Radlo, Reg. No. 26,793 on 9/26/05.

Amend the Abstract of the disclosure as follows:

Abstract of the Disclosure

Customers often have access to multiple payment methods for any given transaction. In one embodiment of the invention, a merchant obtains information regarding multiple payment methods from a customer, and sends said information to a transaction evaluator. Via computer networks, the transaction evaluator sends information about the transaction to the issuers of one or more of the payment methods. The issuers perform a cost/benefit analysis of the transactions and respond with a description of the terms under which they are willing to process the transaction. Based on the issuer response, the transaction evaluator selects one of the payment methods. By enabling participating issuers to select favorable transactions and avoid unprofitable ones, the invention can thus improve issuer profitability by directing profitable transactions to participating issuers while directing unprofitable transactions away from participating issuers or to alternate transaction methods that are more profitable or less costly.

Response to Amendment
